LORRAINE'S PILLS,
OR VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE
CURATIVE

French College of Health, in Paris.

THE following letter was received yesterday by mail from Salem. It gives another evidence of the great success of Lorraine's Vegetable Universal Pills.

Sir—I have been for many years a sufferer from the ravages of Scrofula and Cancerous Humors, which at last seated on the vitals, and exhibited all the threatening symptoms of consumption. The general utility of all remedies awakened my enquiries as to the thousand different methods of cure, to most of which I had recourse without receiving benefit. I accidentally noticed a remarkable cure by Lorraine's Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. I sent to Boston and got a box. By the use of them I found immediate relief and was soon restored to a perfect state of health.

J. E. NEWHALL.

Salem, 21st May, 1841.

The following letter from J. B. Light, Esq. is worthy of notice.

Sir—I took one of Lorraine's Vegetable Pills last evening for a pain in my head, that had effected me for several days, occasioned by taking cold. I soon felt very calm, and quiet, and a state of general repose came on, which had great charms, and I enjoyed one of the most comfortable and refreshing nights that I ever did in my life. I rose in the morning in my usual state of health, and believe it is my duty to recommend this medicine.

Yours truly,
J. B. LIGHT.

Nov. 20th, 1841.

[From Boston Daily Mail.]

Somebody wisely says, that a cap loaded with jewels and flowers will not cure the headache, nor gold chains prevent the consumption. Lorraine's Vegetable Pills have done both.

SARAH NOYES.

Sir—My daughter had all the threatening symptoms of a Consumption, such as cough, pain in the side, &c., together with general debility, but has had her health restored by Lorraine's Pills.

Rev. J. KNIGHT.

New York City, Nov. 1, 1841.

Family Medicine.

Sir—I have used Lorraine's Pills in my family as a family medicine, and I would most earnestly recommend them to all persons, as the best medicine that can be procured. I would not be without them—they operate mildly, and never fail to give immediate relief. Until I used these Pills I was obliged to pay from 20 to 25 to $100 per year for medicines and physicians, since then I have had no other doctor than Dr. Lorraine's Pills.

JAMES NEAL.

Hartford, Conn. July 8.

Lame Back.

Sarah Snow was cured of a lame back in one day, when she had been unable to dress herself alone for two weeks.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. Bird of Providence says, that 'Lorraine's Pills have proved a real blessing to her. It has surpassed any thing that has been brought to the public notice. I have been cured of a sick headache that afflicted me for years, by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

THE CONDITION.

The condition upon which nature gives health to man, is a watchful care to keep his stomach and bowels free from morbid and unhealthy accumulations. Lorraine's Pills admirably effect this, because they cleanse the bowels and purify the blood. The human body is always healthy when the bowels are regular, the blood circulates freely, and disease invariably commences when obstructions take place in the bowels.

The extraordinary virtues of Lorraine's Pills depend upon extracts of over 50 different vegetables, all so admirably combined as to purify, nourish and invigorate the human system.

MISCELLANEOUS.

French Claims.

We invite particular attention to the article from North Yarmouth in this day's paper on the subject of the French Spoiliations prior to 1800.

It will be seen how near home in fact, has come the injustice of the long delay, which our own Government is responsible. Taking this example, as similar to many others, throughout the country, it will be seen that these claims are by no means in the hands of speculators, but that large amounts are still claimed by persons who were originally wronged, and by their heirs.

French Spoiliations.

The undersigned inhabitants of the town of North Yarmouth, are directly interested in the adjustment of losses by French cruizers upon the commerce of the United States, prior to the year 1800, and are prompted to make known our situation in this matter—knowing that many in this State, and throughout the United States are directly interested in the settlement of this long standing and almost forgotten demand upon our United States Government, to pay to its citizens, debt and interest, what is as justly their due as any one that can be named.

We need hardly say to those having an interest in these losses that nearly half a century has past, since our property was taken and converted to paying the demands of our common country—those of us who were then actors, (and some of us were so) in the business of those days, know from sad experience how hard a case this is.

It is not our design at the present time to repeat all of the facts connected with this case—it being our present object to bring the subject before those interested, and suggest some plan of operation that we may if possible secure such an interest in the next Congress as will lead to a just settlement of the whole subject.

Scattered as we are, all over the country—we would suggest the petitioning of all our citizens, and more especially of those who have an interest in the losses—the next Congress; let the petitions state the simple facts in the case—state as near as can be the amount in each town or city, with such other facts, as to the vessels named—where condemned—and to whom the indemnity would be paid, if paid at all.

We suggest also, as those interested are so scattered, the propriety of employing some competent person to take the whole care of the same, and if a settlement by him is made, that a certain per centum on the amount received be allowed for his services; and if this plan should be considered as one worthy of attention, that a state committee be appointed in all the States having an interest, and further doings be entered into by them, to carry out the object, as they may be advised hereafter.

We do not feel tenacious of any course to pursue; we only throw out the above that if possible we may get up some more direct interest on this subject, for when it is known to such a town as North Yarmouth has individuals with in its bounds, that are justly entitled to about One hundred thousand dollars from the Government of the United States, for losses by the French, why, we ask, should we be uninterested longer in the result?—We appeal to our friends in Portland, Kennebunk, Bath, Waldoborough, Wiscasset, Belfast, Castine, and any other place within our State, to begin with us—begin anew on the subject, and if possible, let us stir up those interested in the other States to besiege the next Congress at the next session, and not cease our efforts until we obtain our just dues.

Papers in this State may confer a favor upon some by alluding to the object of the above. Also those in other States may be benefited by a similar course.

Death of Alden Bradford.

We regret to learn that Alden Bradford, LL. D., one of our most estimable citizens, died in this city on Wednesday night, aged 75 years.

Mr Bradford was a liberal and worthy descendant of the Pilgrims. He was for many years Secretary of this Commonwealth—and has written many valuable works on Biography and History. He was ever ready to lend all his influence to any measure of reform or philanthropy, which promised to improve the welfare of his fellow men.—Mercantile Journal

The Drunkard's Wife in a Temperance Meeting.

What page in the book of life can be more interesting, more thrilling to look at, than the following description of a scene of common occurrence in the every day affairs of life? Does not the heart of every reader recognize at once, the finger of truth in the delineations here given.

"Upon that page perhaps, the fond and faithful wife is gazing, heedless of the passing crowd. Her thoughts go back to the dark ruined home she has just left without a hope, and to her poor babes, who, weak with hunger weep themselves to sleep. With borrowed cloak to hide her destitution, she stole out at the dark hour, and mixing in the crowd, found place amongst her fellows in poverty and distress, who came at least to hear of a strange but simple plan for calling back such wanderers as her husband long had been. And now she listens most intently, for the language is all such as comes home to her experience, and is level with her understanding. The speaker must have known her case. If he were there—perhaps—and then a deep sigh bursts from her lips; but she listens still, and more intently, to the speaker's moving word, until her heart becomes too full; and she looks around to see if any amongst her neighbors—for of friends she has none left—are there to profit by those words of touching truth.—What aids the woman? Whom has she seen amongst the crowd? Her cheeks are flush with burning crimson, and her eyes are bright with living fire. It is—it must be he! She cannot be mistaken in her husband's form, still beautiful to her. Far back amongst the crowd he stands with folded arms, his gaze intent upon the speaker's face. No smile of thoughtless folly flits across his brow, but a deep earnestness is stamped on every feature as he gazes on. But what is that which moves him now? A simple tale of woman's truth. The wife beholds him dash the tear-drop from his eye. A gathering mist is in her own, but she forgets it all, nothing is present with her but that other self—that life in which alone she lives. Alas, it is all over; the speaker ceases, and the company break up.

The wife waits anxiously the moment when her husband shall withdraw, thinking to join him at the door, yet fearing to intrude too hastily upon his softened feelings, she stands perfectly resigned, with folded arms upon her breast, pushed here and there by the receding crowd, no one of whom takes note of her and hers. Still there is something to be done, beside the platform where the speaker stands, and numbers gather to the spot. A book is opened—a pen is offered—a kind and friendly voice invites the company to sign. "Make way! the figure of a man advances from behind. Make way! for wonder glances forth from every eye. Behind that figure is a female form; a shadow—a pale, poor thing, so feeble that she cannot stand, but leans upon his shoulder with one clasping arm. "There, I have signed!" exclaims the man; "and now, my wife, come home and let us pray to-night. Stop! stop one moment. What a hand is hers! so thin and trembling; yet she grasps that pen as if it were a rod of iron, to inscribe deep words of mercy in the rocks forever. They pass away together—that penniless and friendless pair, strong in each other's love. Weeks glide away—months—perhaps a year; and they are seen together now, so happy! with their rosy children, standing at their cottage door—their blazing fire and clean swept hearth, and pteous table spread within.

Such are the scenes which cheer on every hand the laborer in the temperance cause, and if this passing sketch convey a slight idea of the interest excited by such scenes, what must be that of entering into the details of the family and individual history, where all things temporal and eternal are at stake, and hang as it were upon the transcript of a single name."—[Voice from the Vintage.

Industrial Education.

The idea of connecting the acquirement of industrial arts with mental education, is altogether modern. We have no account in ancient history of any such benevolent institution. The first school of this description was established at Holwyl, in Switzerland, by M. de Fellenberg, a man of fortune and a philanthropist. Similar institutions have since grown up in other countries, and we now have several in our own.

We believe ours, however, only combine a knowledge of agriculture with the usual branches of an English education. As we look upon these schools with peculiar interest, we have endeavored to learn the mode adopted in the most recent of them as they are now conducted. There is one at Templemore, near Londonderry, which is said to be efficiently managed. The superiors of this school consist of a farmer, teacher, and a matron. The number of pupils is about seventy each of whom pays a trifle as an admission fee.

The boys rise at five in the morning, arrange their rooms, and then attend prayers in the chapel. They are taught in two divisions, and on alternate days, and are under the instruction of the farmer and schoolmaster. They breakfast at eight o'clock, and are allowed their liberty until nine. They dine at one, and have an hour afterwards for recreation. From two to six they are at school or at work on the farm, according to the turn of each division. They sup at six, and have an hour left seven for themselves. From seven to nine they prepare their lessons for the next day, then attend evening prayers, and retire for the night. On Sunday they attend divine worship at such places as they prefer, and occupy the intervals of the day in religious reading. The intellectual branches consist of reading, writing, spelling, grammar, geography, arithmetic, writing and book-keeping, practical trigonometry and geometry. There are also lectures on agriculture, botany, and agricultural chemistry. The science of agriculture is taught on the most extensive scale; all its varieties, all its improvements, the management of the utensils of husbandry and their repairs, are particularly exemplified. When the boys go into the field to work, they are divided into sections of ten, and these are each under the care of a monitor who superintends the work. Regular farm books are kept, and an accurate account is furnished of the amount of work performed and the amount of crops raised by them. In turn, the scholars are taken to market to make sale of the products of the farm. The land cultivated amounts to one hundred and thirty-three acres, which are worked upon scientific principles. The principle of the rotation of crops is thoroughly acted upon; drains of various kinds, and fences of different descriptions, are also made by way of experiment. In short, at this school the most perfect agricultural education may be obtained.

There is another of these establishments at Ealing, near London, established by a benevolent lady, in which the pupils have a small piece of ground allotted them, and which they cultivate for their own benefit.

At the Royal Military Asylum at Chelsea, there is another, containing six hundred children of non-commissioned officers. All those above eleven years are taught handicrafts. To amuse them, military exercises are performed, and they have an excellent band of music. In many of the institutions of England where young criminals are placed for reformation, a similar system is adopted with good results.

It is well known that one of the favorite projects of the late Jesse Buel, an eminently practical man, and one whose efforts in the cause of agriculture produced the most beneficial results in this State, was the establishment of an agricultural college upon the principles already stated. He obtained an act of incorporation, and was steadily proceeding to carry out his benevolent and useful project, when death called him from the scene of his labors. N Y Sun

Mercantile Association.

We learn that the prospect is quite bright for the formation of a Mercantile Association in this city. Our business men have become much interested in the object, and a meeting will soon be called to take the necessary preliminary steps towards an organization. This movement will do much to advance the social and intellectual character of our city. It will stimulate many active minds to a more vigorous effort, while it will also afford the means for the exercise of intellectual power. The ability, intellectual and pecuniary, of our merchants and business men, to sustain an association of high respectability and utility, gives the assurance of the permanent establishment of an institution that shall increase in importance from year to year, and contribute to the best interests of society.

The St. John Chronicle states that on Friday week, a severe storm came up in the Bay of Fundy, the wind blowing a furious gale from the south west. Several vessels had gone to sea during the morning, all of which were obliged to return. About five o'clock in the afternoon, two branch pilots, Messrs. John Spears and Edward Murray, with Mr. William Johnston, boarding-house keeper, and another person named Allan, went down the harbor in a small boat for the purpose of boarding vessels coming from sea, but when off Patridge Island the boat was unfortunately upset by the violence of the sea. After clinging to the boat for nearly three quarters of an hour, the two pilots, with Mr. Allan, were taken up by Mr. Daniel Hatfield, in the pilot schooner "Knotty Head," who was also bound down in quest of vessels; but Mr. Johnston having become exhausted sunk before this assistance arrived.

The Lyceum last evening attempted to squeeze into the City Hall but it was ascertained that it was a task that could not be accomplished. An adjournment to the Baptist Church was suggested and approved and thither all went. The first at the City Hall literally being the last at the church. A very full audience listened with great attention to a lecture by Dr. Ray of Augusta on the subject of the mad characters of Shakspear.

White Blackberries.

An account of the discovery of white blackberries, growing in Georgia, has attracted considerable attention for several months past. We noticed the fact sometime since as a new and interesting one, as we were aware that the existence of this kind of fruit has often been plumply denied.

We are informed by our friend Col. Philip Morrill, of Glenburn, that white blackberries grow in considerable quantity on the east side of Pushaw Lake in Glenburn. The berry is of good size, and when ripe quite sweet. We shall try our skill in making them grow in the garden.

Robbery at Dover.

Our correspondent at Dover, in Piscataquis county, informs us that a few nights since the store of George W. Sawyer, Esq. of that town, was broken open and goods to the amount of $50 to $75 stolen. No clue to the robbers at the last accounts.

It is pretty evident that there are in the country a precious set of scamps. Within about ten days past no less than six persons have been lodged in the jail in this city, and every one of them charged with crimes, the penalties of which doom to the State prison.

The Portland Advertiser says, that the examination of Hatch, at Saco, suspected of being the author of the mischief on the Rail Road, by which Adams lost his life, was continued through Saturday, but not brought to a close. It was to be resumed on Monday. During the intermission, we understand, Hatch has been allowed to go home, his Lawyers having become responsible for his appearance. It is thought that the facts elicited will be sufficient to warrant his commitment for trial.

We publish, to-day, with pleasure, and would call attention to the gratifying circular from the Whig Central Committee of Ohio. It expresses the strongest confidence that the Buckeye State will in 1844 decide in favor of Harry of the West for President.

We learn that Gen. Mark Trafton, of this city, has been appointed by Judge Chandler, Collector of Eastport, as a deputy collector to be located at or near Fish River.

We learn that Dr. Deane on Monday evening mesmerized a subject, when a very sore, ulcerated tooth was extracted without the knowledge of the patient. The Doctor gives exhibitions at his office nearly every evening.

Charles F. Wittcomb, the forger and ex-Member of Congress, was pardoned on Wednesday by Governor Bonch.

A Debating Club.

Allow me to suggest through the medium of your paper the propriety of forming a Debating Club, for the benefit of both parties. If there are talents among us, hid in a napkin, why not bring them out for the public benefit? Sure I am that in a community composed of so many professional men, there must be some who are capable of sustaining a debate, once a week, upon some interesting subject, and, besides, it would tend to give encouragement and confidence to the young men to hold forth an argument, or rather be permitted to speechify;—of course there would be liberty for any one to display their talents by taking a part in the argument. This city has long been noted for the enterprise of its inhabitants—quite sorry am I to see it rivalled in a literary point of view. Then let me urge you to bestir yourselves, so that you can enjoy the advantages that would be derived from such a society. The long winter evenings are before us, and I know of no better way of spending a few hours more pleasantly and profitably than in listening to debate.

I assure you the ladies are exceedingly desirous to bring it about. I am sure no greater inducement could be offered to the gentlemen of this city.

ADELIA.

Game is getting to be plentiful in this vicinity. Yesterday morning a farmer coming into the city in a wagon started three raccoons, and at length killed them with a club and disposed of them to the market men.

The ravages of the yellow fever have been great in Mobile for the population, and we have noticed several instances where whole family circles have been broken up by the ruthless hand of the fell disease. Truly the following, which we copy from the Herald, is a picture sad to look upon:

"And then I, too, will lie me down and die!"—Almost hourly in the day we hear of some instance of real distress, which is sufficient to wring tears from a heart of stone, where some poor, unfortunate being has lost by death all that bound him to earth, and the last tie which held his affections is severed.

A day or two since, the most heart-rending instance of real distress and calm despair was told us, which we remembered to have heard. It is this:

Some two or three weeks since, a lady of this city gave birth to a child, and while still on her bed with debility, she was taken with the yellow fever. Her child died, and her husband and mother were seized with the same disease. In a day or two after a young brother was taken down—and as all of the family, with the exception of one brother, was taken sick, the last one was carried to the house of a friend. In a few days the mother, who was first taken down, died—her husband followed her shortly after. The aged mother recovered so far as to be able to go and nurse her sick boy—and in the meantime the elder brother, the last of the family, was also seized with the fever. The mother watched with a mother's solicitude the fast-ebbing life of her youngest boy, who was sinking into death's embrace. Ere long he too died—and in a few moments when his bereaved parent saw her loss she observed in a certain tone which too plainly told of despair, "Now that he is dead, I will go home and nurse my last child, and when he is dead, I, too, will lie me down and die!" Oh, who can tell—who can picture the agony of that bereaved and heart-broken woman? Words cannot do it, and none but a parent can feel that mother's misery!

Hasty.

We have Le Manifeste of October 1st, containing the proceedings of the Constituent Assembly up to that date. On the 25th ult. Herrera, President of the Provisional Government, sent a message to the Assembly, recommending an amnesty for political offences. After an exciting discussion, the Assembly, without taking any question, proceeded to the orders of the day.

On the 27th, the House voted, by a majority of four votes, the indemnity demanded by those who had sustained losses on account of the public service during the revolution. The passage of this act was vehemently contested, on the ground of financial embarrassment, and the pressing demands of France for payment of the instalments due to her by treaty.

[N. Y. Jour. Com.]

A decision of some importance has been given by Judge Clayton, in the case of the State of Georgia vs. Canato, a Cherokee Indian, committed to jail upon a charge of digging gold in that part of the Cherokee Nation not yet ceded, but attached to the county of Gwinnet for the purposes of civil and criminal jurisdiction, which will occupy the attention of Congress at its next Session, and is also under consideration before the Cherokee Board of Commissioners.

The question at issue was—"Whether the State of Georgia has a right to pass laws dispossessing the Cherokees of their lands without the intervention of treaty stipulations between the United States and that Nation; and whether the Cherokees, who were driven from their gold-mines by the authorities of Georgia, are not entitled to indemnity, under the head of 'degradation,' inserted in the Treaty of 1835, and can now make their claim before the Cherokee Board."

Mr. Webster, according to a correspondent of the Memphis Eagle, purposes visiting the south and south west next winter. The correspondent says:

"Mr. Webster has long since expressed a wish to visit the South, and now, since he has become a private citizen, and can for the first time within thirty years, command his own time, we may expect to have the pleasure of seeing him perhaps next month.

He will descend the Mississippi from Pittsburg or Wheeling, to New Orleans. From New Orleans he will pass over the lake to Mobile, from thence through Georgia to Charleston, South Carolina, and to Washington City."

The railroad between Venice and Padua is so far completed as to be opening for a distance of about 25 miles. The bridge, by which the railroad is to enter the city of Venice, across the Logones, which will be more than a mile in length, will not be completed in less than two years.

The Philadelphians have their friction matches perturbed so that in burning the odor, is as grateful as the breath of roses.

The Skowhegan Clarion says there was a sprinkling of snow in that town on Friday last.

Ohio Circular.

WHIG COMMITTEE ROOM,
COLUMBUS, OCT. 9, 1843.

The annual election in Ohio, having just passed, we take the earliest opportunity to communicate to our friends the auspicious result. The Whigs of this State went into the canvass, borne down by the accumulated wrongs of local Legislation, and the effects of disengagements on national politics, too strong to be overcome by mere party attachments. They had only a deep regard for principles to cheer them on; and the result, so far as the popular voice could be heard, has been a triumph—a glorious victory; If the result of the election does not exhibit the Whigs of Ohio in all the strength of 1840, enough has been done to show that the plague of free trade and its kindred evils, have been stayed; and that the crisis which is approaching in '44, will be nobly met and triumphantly passed.

The Gerrymandering of the State in 1840 for members of the General Assembly, and a like iniquitous proceeding last winter for members of Congress, virtually disfranchises thousands of Whigs in the election of their representatives. Therefore it is that the entire strength of the party can never be made to tell, except in the year of a Presidential election.

But there are circumstances attending this election, which are encouraging. The bad legislation of the last few years, has awakened a spirit of inquiry among our opponents, and we are proud to acknowledge that in many instances men have risen superior to the trammels of party, and contended manfully for principles and for the rights of the people.

In the districting of last winter, our opponents provided for the election of 15 Locofoco Members of Congress. But 12 only have been elected! Showing a clear gain of three districts, in spite of party legislation.

Of the 13 State Senators elected, the Whigs have secured 9. Of those who held over, the Locofocos had 11, to 7 Whigs, securing a Locofoco majority of 4 in the Senate, retained under the operation of the districting system.

Of the 72 members of the House of Representatives, the Whigs have elected 38—the Locofocos 31—and three independent men have been elected in opposition to the regular Locofoco candidates, under circumstances which induce us to believe that on all great questions which divide the two parties they will act with the Whigs. Under this expectation, we claim a majority of 6 on joint ballot.

This result is sufficient to arrest the march of corruption. The differing complexion of the two Houses, produced as before explained, will disappoint the hopes of many who had fondly expected that the ensuing election would give the people a Legislature which would justly and honestly represent their wishes. But—courage friends! This evil will now be corrected by a fair districting of the State: Bad legislation will be prevented: No prospective laws to bolster up demagogues can be passed. And, we may add, from the signs of the times, both in our own State and among the sisters who have recently held their elections, a favorable augury may be drawn, promising nothing less than the election of the Whig nominee for the Presidency in 1844. At all events, in the name of our Whig fellow citizens, we pledge Ohio for such a result!

"Ex-President Boyer and family arrived here by the rail road on Monday. They travelled in so plain a way that the journals cannot reconcile it with the accounts of his immense wealth. A Rouden editor, who visited the party, reports him a dark mulatto, a man of sensible conversation and good breeding, apparently about 65 or 68 years of age, under a double affliction, the loss of power and country, and the recent death of his wife. His mother, with him, is a negress very tall, above eighty years of age, dressed in an odd fashion, wearing a great felt hat. The wife of the colonel, his nephew and aid, who is a bright mulatress, possesses rare beauty and has four children. This morning, in passing the hotel near the Church of the Madeline, in which they are lodged on the first floor, I saw the aged dame and an equally black nurse with one of the children in her arms at a window."

Welcome to John Quincy Adams.

DEDHAM, OCTOBER 24, 1843.

We come, no warrior to meet,
No chief with sword and shield
Returning home with blood-stained feet
From some great battle field;
We come the FRIEND of MAN to greet,
The Hero who hath stood
Undaunted—scorning to retreat—
When Slavery threatened blood.

We come to render homage due
From freeman to that one,
Who, foremost of the brave and true,
Is Freedom's champion.
We come to hear that fearless voice
Long raised in Freedom's cause,
And from the Statesman of our choice
Learn how to guard her laws.

Thou more than Hero—Patriot, Sage!
Shield of the rights of man—
Thy name shall shine on History's page
A light to guide and warn;
And when our sons in future days
Shall meet round Freedom's shrine,
Thy name shall mingle with their lays
Of love for "AULD LANG SYNE."

No trait of character is more valuable in a female than the possessions of a sweet temper.—Home can never be made happy without it.—It is like the flowers that spring up in our pathway, reviving and cheering us. Let a man go home at night, wearied and worn by the toils of the day, and how soothing is a word dictated by a good disposition: It is sunshine falling upon his heart. He is happy and the cares of life are forgotten. A sweet temper has soothing influence over the minds of the whole family. Where it is found in the wife and mother, you observe kindness and love predominating over the bad feelings of the natural heart. Smiles, kind words and looks, characterize the children, and peace and love have then dwelling there. Study then to acquire and retain a sweet temper. It is more valuable than gold; it captivates more than beauty, and to the close of life retains all its freshness and power.

The fellow who took the premium at Rochester, for the largest and best collection of fruit, bought the whole collection at a fruit stand, and sent them. It is said that he never raised any thing—but the d—l, in his life,

Moderation is the silken string running thro' the pearl chain of all virtues.

God is better lodged in the heart than in great edifices.

Emulation looks out for merits, that she may exalt herself by a victory: envy spies out blemishes, that she may lower another by defeat.

Histories make men wise: poets witty; the mathematics subtle; natural philosophy, deep: morals, grave; logic and rhetoric, able to contend.

That man has too high an opinion of himself that is only afraid of thunder and earthquake.

Lesses are insufferable to those who are not accustomed to lose.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.
 FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM, - NAMELY:
 Scrofula, or King's Evil, rheumatism, obstinate cutaneous eruptions, pimples, or pustules on the face, blotches, biles, chronic sore eyes, ring worm or tetter, scald head, enlargement and pain of the bones and joints, stubborn ulcers, syphilitic symptoms, sciatica, or lumbago, and diseases arising from an injudicious use of the mercury, ascites, or dropsy, exposure or imprudence in life. Also, chronic constitutional disorders will be removed by this preparation.

The proprietors submit to the public the following certificate, from a highly respectable source, of a cure made by using their preparation of Sarsaparilla, which cannot but have the effect of placing beyond all doubt the curative powers of the medicine:

New York, August 3, 1842.
 "Messrs. Sands—Gentlemen: Under a feeling sense of gratitude inherent to us all when suddenly relieved from suffering and disease, I now, as an act of justice due to you, and with a view of relieving the afflicted, make known to the world the inestimable benefit I have received from the use of your Sarsaparilla. In the year 1832 I sailed from England in a vessel bound for Quebec, and while on the passage first discovered the disease which after proved to be a sore affliction; and truly I can say, 'from the crown of my head to the sole of my foot there was no soundness in me.' From the time first mentioned down until the present, a period of more than two years, I have suffered all that human nature was capable of bearing. I have been under the care of the most distinguished physicians both in this country and in England, visited Bath, Cheltenham, Bristol and Gloucester, tried various specifics, among others a large quantity of Swaim's Panacea, used sulphur baths, &c. As a last resort I was induced to wrap myself in a tar ointment, keep myself secluded, shunned by all, myself also shunning. I was induced to believe my case a hopeless one.

In August last, by the advice of friends, I went to the New York City Hospital, but was there told that my case was incurable. The disease now enveloped my whole body, rendering me almost helpless; the skin thickened and cracked, and blood and matter ran, and life itself became almost a burden. A few weeks since I was induced to use your Sarsaparilla by hearing it so highly recommended, having spent nearly $3,000 without obtaining but little relief. After using it a short time, I found myself better, and now, by using six or eight bottles, costing me less than ten dollars, I am well. Yes, I certify and declare to the world that after spending near $3,000 in traveling and doctoring, and suffering more than can be told, I was perfectly cured by using your invaluable preparation of Sarsaparilla; and I now recommend it to all similarly afflicted. Those wishing to know further particulars will find me at my residence, No. 27 Warren street, New York, where I shall be happy to communicate any thing in relation to the above cure.

PAUL BURDOCK.
 Prepared and sold by A. R. SANDS & Co. Druggists and Chemists, Granite Buildings, 273 Broadway, corner of Chambers street, New York. And for sale by Druggists throughout the United States. Price $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5.
 The public are respectfully requested to remember that it is Sands' Sarsaparilla that has and is constantly achieving such remarkable cures of the most difficult class of diseases to which the human frame is subject, and ask for Sands' Sarsaparilla, and take no other.

PATENT MILL WHEELS.
 THE Subscriber having for a long time given his attention to the construction and operation of Water Wheels, has finally succeeded in the invention of two kinds of Wheels for which he has received Letters Patent from the Government of the United States.

These Wheels are simple in their construction, cheap and durable, are easily put in operation, and are not liable like most other wheels to get out of order, they are not obstructed by back water, when the head is not diminished thereby; and the same power and speed is obtained, with about one half the quantity of water usually applied to wheels now in general use.

A great number of these Wheels are now in operation and give in all cases entire satisfaction; and for further information respecting them the following gentlemen are referred to, all of whom have some of said wheels in operation: Jacob Drummond, James B. Fiske, Amos Davis and Leonard March, Esqrs., Messrs. Fiske & Norcross, Foster & Gilman, S. P. & H. Strickland, W. T. & H. Pearce & Co. Bangor; Hon. J. S. Little, Portland; Hon. John Ois. Hallowell; F. A. Butman, Esquire, Dixmont; Robert Treat, Geo. A. Pearce, Esquires, Frankfort; Daniel Dennett, Esq. Millo; Col. Henry Orne, Milton; Messrs. Fiske & Bridge, Milford; Ira Wadleigh, Esq. Oldtown; Capt. R. Fitz, Dedham; John Black and John M. Hale, Esqrs. Ellsworth; Messrs. A. Campbell & Co. Cherryfield; Daniel Harwood, Esq. Machias; Levi L. Lowell, Calais.

The above wheels are manufactured and for sale at the Iron Foundries of MESSRS. HINCKLEY & EGERY and FRANKLIN MUZZY & Co. in this city, who are furnished with a great variety of patterns, so that Wheels of any particular description, or adapted to any given head of water, can be furnished at short notice. They are also authorized to dispose of the Patent Right for the same.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

THIS invaluable medicine is daily effecting some of the most astonishing and wonderful cures that have ever been known. All who have used it for Asthma, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Whooping Cough, Croup or Hoarse, Consumption, Chronic Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Pain and Soreness of the Throat, Difficulty of Breathing, and every other disease of the LUNGS and BREAST, can do almost at its usefulness. BRONCHITIS, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands upon thousands to a premature grave, under the misnomer name of CONSUMPTION, is always cured by it. The usual symptoms of this disease, Brachitis, are Cough, Soreness of the Lungs or Throat, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Hectic Fever, a Spitting up of Phlegm or Mucous, and sometimes Blood. It is an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the whole of the wind tubes or air vessels, which run through every part of the Lungs. The Expectorant immediately suppresses the Cough, Pain, Inflammation, Fever and Difficulty of Breathing, and produces a free and easy expectoration, and a cure is soon effected.

It cures CROUP, or LIVES of Infants, in from 15 minutes to an hour's time. It immediately subdues the violence of WHOOPING COUGH, and effects a speedy cure. Hundreds who have been given up by their physicians as incurable with CONSUMPTION, have been restored to perfect health by it.

It cures the Expectorant in the commencement of PLEURISY, INFLAMMATION OF THE LUNGS, or in acute RHEUMATISM, in doses sufficiently large, so as to cause a little nausea for some time, going to bed and covering up warm, it will produce perspiration, and subdue these affections at once.

Tonic Vermifuge.

WORMS IN CHILDREN. Of all diseases to which children are exposed, none are so fatal to them as Worms. Unfortunately, children are seldom free from them, and as they imitate the symptoms of almost every other complaint, they often produce alarming effects without being suspected. They are not only a cause of disease themselves, but by their irritation aggravate all other diseases, wandering from one part of the body to another, winding themselves up into large balls, and obstructing the bowels, and frequently the throat, causing convulsions, and too often death. The desired remedy will be found in Dr. JAYNE'S TONIC VERMIFUGE, which will very soon destroy the worms, and invigorate the powers of digestion so as to prevent a return of them. PRICE 50 cents.

JAYNE'S CARMINATIVE BALSAM.

This is one of the most efficient, pleasant and safe compositions ever offered to the public; for the cure of the various derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, and the only article worthy of the least confidence for curing CHOLERA INFANTUM or SUMMER COMPLAINT; and in the above and following diseases, it really acts like a charm, viz:
 Dysentery, Diarrhea or Looseness, Cholera Morbus, Summer Complaint, Choleric Griping Pain, Sour Stomach, Sick and Nervous Headache, Heartburn, Water-brash, Pain or Sickness of the Stomach, Vomiting, Spitting up of food after eating, and also where it passes through the body unchanged; Want of Appetite, Restlessness and Inability to Sleep, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Hysterics, Cramp, Nervous Tremors and Twitchings, Sea Sickness, Faintings, Melancholy and Lowness of Spirits, Fretting and Crying of Infants, and for all Disorders of the Stomach and Bowels.

PRICE 50 cents.

Hair Tonic.

NO EXCUSE FOR A BALD HEAD. Since the important discovery of Dr. JAYNE'S HAIR TONIC, every one may, if they choose, preserve their hair from falling out, or if already bald, may, with certainty, have their hair restored again by a faithful and persevering application of this valuable HAIR TONIC.

Please to read without prejudice the following communication, which, in addition to hundreds of others equally respectable, should remove the doubts of every reasonable person of the uniform and singular efficacy of JAYNE'S HAIR TONIC.

HAMILTON, Feb. 15, 1840.
 Dr. D. Jayne—Dear Sir: I cannot say my hair is restored, but I can say that it appears to be in as rapid a process of restoration as could reasonably be expected. I had not finished the first bottle, before a decided change was manifest over the bald part of the head, to which it was applied. A new growth of fine glossy hair, much like that of an infant, appeared, and has continued to increase and I have had it cut two or three times. I have recently commenced upon the third bottle, but have been a good deal irregular in the use of the Tonic from the first, and from this cause I apprehend the effect is at present less than it otherwise would have been.

I began the use of the Tonic with little or no faith that it would ever be successful on my head, though I felt entire confidence in your statements of what it had done for others; and I was as much surprised as delighted when I saw the effect. You recollect the appearance of my head when in your office. I assure you the hair has been nearly, if not quite, an inch long at the times I have had it cut, on those parts which were nearly destitute of any when you saw me. It was, however, very fine, though quite thick. I am flushed with sanguine hopes of final success, in the diligent use of your Tonic, which, amidst all the hair bandages which have been advertised in the papers, I am constrained to believe is what it claims to be, and that it will make the hair grow, and no mistake, at least on some heads.

OR NATURE'S GRAND AND GENIAL AUXILIARY.

A SPECIFIC for Consumption, Great Biliary Debility, Old and firmly Rooted Coughs, Flatulency, Indigestion and Bilious Disorders, Constipation and Diarrhea, Scrofulic and Scrofulous Affections and Female Complaints.

The Egyptian Balm of Life being an invaluable Family Medicine, should not be neglected in the Spring and Fall by any member of a family, as a Grand Auxiliary to the efforts of nature, in throwing off superfluous humors, generated in the winter and summer months; thus preventing as well as otherwise curing the above distressing maladies, and giving a healthy tone and proper action to all the grand operations of the system.

This Medicine has long sustained an unrivalled character for excellency in the private practice of many eminent practitioners in Europe, yet remaining at the same time undervalued in the possession of the individual of whom it has been purchased.

It is now exerting a salutary influence on this side of the Atlantic, and it is recommended to those who may be laboring under any of the diseases for which it is designed as a specific, and also as a preventive of disease, on its first appearance.

For a more particular description of the above medicine, we would refer to the envelope accompanying each bottle.

Many valuable certificates might be produced of the benefit received therefrom. Hundreds in the State of Maine, as well as in other States, can testify to its superior efficacy, but the proprietor is willing for the public to judge for themselves by trial. A few names however, are referred to in the envelope accompanying each bottle.
